A Night of Terror.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she could not live till morning," writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night. "All thought she must soon die from Pneumonia, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, saying it had more than once saved her life, and had cured her of Consumption. After three small doses she slept easily all night, and its further use completely cured her." This marvelous medicine is guaranteed to cure all Throat, Chest and Lung Diseases. Only 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at W. A. D'Alemberte's drug store.

Attend Falk's opening to-morrow, Thursday and Friday.

THE HONEY MAKERS.

Bees can endure dry cold, but not dampness. There are no lazy bees. Queenless bees build drone comb. Heat does not damage honey, but tends to ripen and improve it. Dampness and darkness do not agree with it. Honey that remains in the comb for some time after being stored is always the best article when extracted. In very cold weather bees often die, and, falling, will clog the entrance. They must be removed or the bees will smother. During the winter care must be taken in removing dead bees, so as not to disturb the hive and arouse them into activity. It is not so much in understanding the theory of beekeeping that brings success as in the capacity for looking after the details. If there is too much drone comb in the hive, remove it and replace it with worker comb. In this way the supply of drones is easily regulated. By having and keeping the entrance to the hives and vicinity clean and convenient for the bees to get in and out many bees may be saved in winter. When bees receive but little attention and are allowed to build all of their own comb, they always have a large amount of drone comb, and this results in an overproduction of drones.—St. Louis Republic.

RECENT INVENTIONS.

Electro medical treatment is given patients by means of a new sofa, which has batteries and an induction coil contained in the lower portion, with lead and foot plates to be placed in contact with the patient. India rubber can be decolorized by a new Danish process, consisting in reducing the rubber to pieces of suitable size and then subjecting them to a solution of sulphur under heat, the solution being washed out after it has softened the rubber. For scattering the compound contained in hand fire grenades when broken, a Massachusetts man has designed a spring, which is contracted and placed in the center of the extinguisher, to expand suddenly and act on the contents when the grenade is broken. A western man has patented a warming device for raising bread, having a lamp set in the bottom of a casing, with a number of trays to carry the dough arranged in a tier in an upper compartment, the heat circulating around the trays and passing off at the top.

THE JEWEL CASKET.

Some of the gold scarfpins for men are in light, open designs set with the tiniest of pearls and olivines. Elegant bits of usefulness for milady's toilet are silk stocking supporters with gold mountings either plain or chased. Gold bracelets studded across the top with turquoise graduated from one large stone in the center to small ones at either end commend themselves to the admirers of this stone. Bracelets that appear to be inspired by French taste consist of fine chain linking together small enameled blossoms, such as the violet or wild rose delicately ornamented with choice stones. The hitherto exceedingly utilitarian aspect of the heavy chain bracelets is now modified by the addition of gems. Into one attractive chain bracelet are introduced rings set with pearls.—Jewelers Circular Weekly.

We have saved many doctor bills since we began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in our home. We keep a bottle open all the time and whenever any of my family or myself begin to catch cold we begin to use the Cough Remedy, and as a result we never have to send away for a doctor and incur a large doctor bill, for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy never fails to cure. It is certainly a medicine of great merit and worth.—D. S. MEARKLE, General Merchant and Farmer, Mattie, Bedford county, Pa. For sale by H. n. nah Bros., 21 South Palafox street.
